

Paige Boehmcke

Boston, MA | hello@paigeboehmcke.com

MOTIVATION

Collaborative leader with strong project management and analysis skills passionate about driving systems change and justice in the American economy.

EDUCATION

MIT Sloan School of Management

Cambridge, MA

Master of Business Administration

June 2018

- President of MIT Entrepreneurs Hub; doubled platform membership in two months; won $1,000 Innovation Initiative student group collaboration grant
- Founder of Sloan Coffee Chats to facilitate monthly peer conversations; grew membership 300%
- 2017 MIT FinTech Hackathon winner, Citi Ventures prize for CitiCoach fitness/financial coaching app
- Coursework in Industrial Work and Employment Relations

Johns Hopkins University

Baltimore, MD

Bachelor of Science

May 2013

- Honors: University of Alabama Presidential Scholar (transferred); University of Alabama Most Outstanding Junior in Metallurgical and Materials Engineering 2011; Tau Beta Pi Member

WORK EXPERIENCE

Jobs for the Future

Boston, MA

Senior Program Manager

September 2017 – Present

Responsibilities: Project management for knowledge management and Salesforce, research assistance

- Designed business processes using Salesforce to track award agreements totalling $30M+ annually and other engagement funnels; Managed rearchitecture of Salesforce Marketing Cloud on a 30 day deadline
- Established and chairs Salesforce Governing Body and Digital Engagement Committee
- Program manager for inaugural JFF Labs Work-Based Learning Cohort with 60+ applicants
- Initiated and developed annual project tracking to collect data on industries, populations, and stakeholders served with cross-organizational input, publishing first-annual internal Visualizing JFF Data report in 2019

MIT Sloan Thailand Action Learning

Bangkok, TH

Consultant

June 2017 – August 2017

- Analyzed new credit-scoring product using non-traditional data for $45B annual revenue telecom company
- Facilitated workshops between Analytics and Product Development to identify key model variables and design product trial, presented go-to-market plan to business unit president, COO, and MIT Sloan and Sasin professors

Venture for America (VFA)

New York, NY

Fellow

June 2013 – June 2015

VFA is a highly selective two-year fellowship created to revitalize American cities through entrepreneurship.

Appointed as Philadelphia City Liaison; Served as repeat Selection Day volunteer

Vorbeck Materials (via VFA)

Jessup, MD

Product Development Associate

June 2014 – June 2016

Responsibilities: New business development, prototype design and construction of printed electronic circuits

- Redesigned printed heater to reduce temperature gradient from 75% to 10% and eliminate hot spots
- Founded in-house screen printing operation and captured 50% savings over outsourcing; Owned screen production line and inventory; Trained three employees and created SOPs for all processing steps

PERSONAL

- Avid half-marathon and trail runner. Member of the 2012 Division III National Champion Cross Country team and founder of Sloan Runners Club.
- Volunteer at WMBR. Host of Alternating Current. Americana Co-director. Sound engineer for Pipeline!
- Awarded three US patents for wearable electronics, #10169978, #10067008, and #10321593.